

Researching and Determination of Vineyard Houses of Tosya in Kastamonu According to their Building Materails and Plan Types

Canan Akhüsük
Istanbul Aydın University
Master of Science Institute of Architecture Students
cananakhusuk@hotmail.com

ABSTRACT

Geographically, the City of Tosya is a district center of the Province of Kastamonu located in the south of the Black Sea of Turkey. The dwelling styles of vineyard of Tosya District have shown some important changing throughout time. The dwellings built in the past show the influences of the natural environment. All of these structures are made of adobe and wood. In these dwellings, the blueprints of houses have been affected by the natural environment conditions and major economical activities. Lately, modern building equipments have been tended to use in the newly built houses of the vineyard of Tosya District. The tendency of using modern building equipments is closely related to increasing level of incomes of people living in the District of Tosya.

Keywords: Vineyard, adobe, modern building equipment.